QUIP Internship Opportunities

QUIP internships are all 12 or 16 months in length, paid, and full-time. Arts & Science students who complete an internship through QUIP would graduate with a “Bachelor of Science (Honours) with Professional Internship” or “Bachelor of Arts (Honours) with Professional Internship”.

Queen’s University is hiring for an internship starting in May 2018:

The Office of the Provost and Vice-Principal (Academic) and Centre for Teaching and Learning are hiring for the role of Academic Initiatives Intern. The intern will develop an understanding of governance and decision making processes in a university and improve and enhance their project management skills. Additionally, the Intern will support learning outcomes research, working with a team on assessment protocols and data analysis. This position may appeal to students with an interest in policy development, models of organizational decision-making, strategic planning, and evaluation. This role is open to any Arts and Science student in QUIP who has the required skills, such as ability to manage projects, time management and organizational skills, writing and communication skills, and analytical abilities. Closes February 16.

Queen’s University - Faculty of Arts & Science is hiring for 2 on-campus internships that start in May 2018. They are open to any Arts or Science student who has the required qualifications and could be a great fit for students interested in a career in communications, analytics, marketing, higher education, or advising/support.

Intern, Marketing & Strategic Initiatives
This intern will be responsible for supporting the development and implementation of new program and partner initiatives, with a focus on marketing and communications for both domestic and international audiences. The position requires independent decision-making, marketing and understanding of analytics and metrics, relationship-building, project management skills, and results-based initiative. Close February 16.

Intern, Marketing & Student Support
This intern will support activities for current and prospective students related to communications and recruitment. Key activities will include first year student advising regarding course and program selection, events and presentations for prospective students, and writing social media content to reach both audiences. Close February 16.

Students must first register in QUIP to apply to positions and can email quiq@queensu.ca for more information.

McMaster University will be hosting our eighth annual NeuroXchange Conference on April 27th, 2018 and we would like to invite you to join us. NeuroXchange is a unique neuroscience and mental health conference open to undergraduate students across Ontario. This conference is designed to bring together future neuroscientists to network, learn, and present their research to fellow peers. Students are encouraged to present their research or to register as attendees. Registration will open sometime early in the new year. Students presenting their research will have the opportunity to win cash prizes as well as a chance to be published in the McMaster Undergraduate Health Sciences Journal, the Meducator. The conference will include a panel of graduate students, professors, and mental health professionals who will provide insight into their careers in research. This year, we have the pleasure of welcoming two keynote speakers. We will have more details on whom will be speaking as time goes on and more details are set in stone. Please feel free to email us at neuroxchange@gmail.com with any further inquiries. We look forward to seeing you at the conference!

What is Connecting Minds? The exclusively undergraduate research conference in Psychology, hosted by Kwantlen Polytechnic University. Connecting Minds (CM) is the furthest reaching undergraduate conference of its kind, drawing student researchers from across Canada, the United States and even Europe. With events aimed towards the interests of undergraduate students, CM presents graduate panels, grant application panels, and social opportunities. CM has also featured several world-renowned keynote speakers such as Drs. Elizabeth Loftus and Albert Bandura, both recognized among the top 100 most eminent psychologists of the 20th century. Who? Dr. Adele Diamond Adele Diamond, PhD, FRSC is the Canada Research Chair Professor of Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience at University of British Columbia (UBC), Vancouver, BC, Canada. Her discoveries have impacted education worldwide and improved treatment throughout the world for two medical disorders (PKU and ADHD). She’s been named one of the “2000 Outstanding Women of the 20th Century” and been recognized as one of the 15 most influential neuroscientists in the world today. Her specialty is “executive functions” (EFs), which depend on the brain’s prefrontal cortex. EFs enable us to resist temptations or automatic impulsive reactions, stay focused, mentally play with ideas, reason, problem solve, flexibly adjust to changed demands or priorities, and see things from new and different perspectives. Dr. Diamond’s keynote address for Connecting Minds is 2018 is entitled, “Insights from Psychology and Neuroscience to help you Succeed in University and on the Job Market”.

Job Type Part Time Position Title Sexual Violence and Bystander Awareness Student Coordinator Number of Positions 1
Location of Work Division of Student Affairs Geographic Location of Job Ontario Paid position? If “no”, job type should be volunteer. yes Salary $15.75/hour

Job Description/Job Summary
The bystander intervention program implements educational programming as part of an overall strategy at Queen’s to address and prevent sexual violence. The program uses a comprehensive education strategy so that when a student graduates from Queen’s University, they will have had access to multiple opportunities to develop both their knowledge and their skills in relation to sexual violence, consent, and healthy relationships.

The Sexual Violence and Bystander Awareness Student Coordinator is responsible for developing and delivering Bystander Intervention training for students and student leaders. Committed to a research-based approach and intersectional framework, the SVBASC is responsible and accountable for the effective delivery of bystander intervention training to diverse student groups across campus. The successful candidate must be able to respond to changing needs, account for best and emerging practices, and assure the quality and relevance of the program in ending gender-based violence and fostering a safe campus community. Please note that due to hiring timelines, applicants must be available to conduct facilitator interviews during the first week of March, and must also be available the weekend of March 24th and 25th for facilitator training.

Key Responsibilities:
• Coordinate, evaluate and run the Bystander Intervention Training Program
• Respond to requests for training, coordinate facilitators and organize the logistics to deliver training
• Develop training content, prepare materials and deliver workshops
• Select, train and support other students who are trainers of the bystander intervention program
• Coordinate and co-facilitate the train-the-trainer session for bystander intervention facilitators with Assistant Dean and campus partners
• Evaluating the bystander intervention program
• Promote and increase the usage of the bystander program
• Record participants of the bystander intervention program
• Provide reports regarding the bystander intervention program as requested
• Work with the Student Experience Office to develop and implement events or activities related to consent and sexual violence awareness for orientation week
• Work closely with campus stakeholders such as Residence Life, the Student Experience Office, the Alma Mater Society and the Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Coordinator and other student and community groups to help with annual awareness and prevention campaigns
• Represent the bystander intervention program on the Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Working Group and the Implementation Team on Prevention and Response to Sexual Violence

Qualifications:
• Undergraduate or graduate student
• Currently in good academic standing
• Experience delivering workshops or facilitating discussion on issues of gender violence

AIESEC is the world’s largest student-run, non-profit organization and we provide a platform for youth leadership development by facilitating international volunteer and internship opportunities. We are currently partnered with the United Nations and the participants of our Global Volunteer opportunities work on projects for 6-8 weeks that impact social issues as outlined by the UN’s Sustainable Development Goals. We have partnered with Indonesia, Taiwan, and Mexico to offer volunteer opportunities for the upcoming summer that may be of interest to the students looking for international experience.

Here are some of our current focus opportunities:

Teaching Project in TAIWAN - Dream beyond Language

Entrepreneurship Project in INDONESIA - Upreneur 3.0

The deadline to apply is Next Friday, February 9, 2018.

We also have an upcoming info session for our Global Volunteer opportunities in which attendance is strongly recommended for anyone that is interested. In conjunction with the Department of Human Biology at the University of Toronto, the Neuroscience Association for Undergraduate Students (NAUS) is hosting the eighth annual Canadian University Life Sciences Challenge (CULSC), to be held at the U of T St. George campus on the weekend of February 16th - 18th. This challenge is modelled after competitions like CBC’s Reach for the Top and Jeopardy. We would like to invite teams of undergraduate students from universities across Canada for this event, including yours, and are therefore requesting your assistance in advertising to your students. We have attached a poster and the information below for you to forward to your students: Teams of up to 4 undergraduate students can register for this competition on our website (https://www.eventbrite.com/e/canadian-undergraduate-life-sciencescompetition-culsc-2018-tickets-41440875775?aff=efbeventtix ), and all universities are welcome to send as many teams as possible. The online registration deadline is Monday February 12 @ 11:59 pm. The competition itself will be composed of multiple knowledge and problem-solving based questions derived from the fields of:
(1) Neuroscience and Psychology. (2) Molecular Biology and Genetics. (3) Physiology and Pathobiology, (4) Anatomy. (5) Immunology, and Microbiology and (6) Biochemistry and Pharmacology. Question difficulties will vary based on the expected knowledge of first, second, third, and fourth year undergraduate students. Teams must register in advance for this event, for only $15/participant. This reserves your spot in the competition, gives you access to social events Friday and Saturday evening, and includes two days of breakfast and two days of lunch. There will also be free time for the competitors to sight-see and enjoy downtown Toronto as they please. For those that require accommodation, we have some options listed on our website, as well as the highly recommended locations listed here: https://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/hs/temporary This competition is a chance to both break out your science know-how in a forum outside of the classroom and for all participants to get to know one another!
