Final Exams Fall 2019

Final Exams begin next week!

We wish you the best success on all your exams! Remember to eat healthy, sleep well and use resources available to you while you study for your exams.

Set your alarm in advance so you will be on time!

Exam FAQs lists important information for your exam day - bookmark this page!

What if I am sick on exam day?

- It is recommended that students who are ill on the day of an examination not write the examination. Such students should seek health services, if needed, and follow-up with their home Faculty/School. See information on academic consideration and accommodation for students on the Arts & Sciences website: https://www.queensu.ca/artsci/undergrad-students/academic-consideration-for-students

- Students who experience an unexpected illness during an examination must notify a proctor prior to leaving so the students’ home Faculty/School can be informed of the event with an incident report. When students leave an examination without notifying a proctor of an unexpected illness, it will be assumed that they completed the exam.

“Study smarter, not harder” may be a cliché... but it’s true!

Here are great resources from QSAS:

- Queen’s Student Academic Success Services offers writing and learning help in Stauffer Library, and all the exam prep resources you are looking for!

- Good luck!

PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENTAL DEADLINES/EVENTS/OPPORTUNITIES

New this Fall UGChat!

Are you looking for general guidance, an opportunity to chat with an academic advisor and/or peers, or a chance to talk generally about your academic plan and career options? This is a session for you!

Happening Fridays from 1-2pm throughout the fall and winter terms, drop into one of our brand new active-learning classrooms for active academic advising. Dr. Norris, Undergraduate Chair in Psychology, will be in Humphrey 223 to help with general questions about plans, to walk you through how to run your Academic Advisement Report, to point out career considerations, and to highlight opportunities on campus that match with your interests and goals. This is a group drop-in session with the goal of equipping students with information that is of interest to them in an informal and helpful way, and building connections among our students. There is no formal agenda, just bring your laptop and questions!

Upcoming Date: December 6

CPA - CALL FOR ABSTRACT SUBMISSIONS

The CPA is now receiving abstracts for its 2020 annual convention. Each year, the Canadian Psychological Association’s (CPA’s) National Convention and Annual General Meeting brings together almost 1,800 psychologists and psychology students from across Canada and abroad. The CPA invites you to join us in Montréal, Québec from Thursday, May 28 to Saturday, May 30, 2020.

The theme for the 2020 CPA Annual National Convention is Psychology in Action and will highlight the multitude of ways that psychology impacts everyone on a daily basis. CPA members, affiliates and non-members and non-affiliates are encouraged to submit!

The submission system will CLOSE on December 2nd, 2019.

For more information contact Kathy Lachapelle-Pétrin: convention@cpa.ca or 613-237-2144 ext. 330.

Smith School of Business – MSc in Management

Management Information Systems (MIS)

Have you ever considered study in MIS? The MSc in MIS provides an understanding of how information systems and technology can be used effectively by organizations. Students will first develop a grounding in research methods, followed by the management and effects of information systems. This program provides a behavioural, rather than technical, approach to MIS. MSc students may continue into the PhD program or enter the workforce as an analyst or consultant.

Who should apply? Students from a variety of backgrounds are eligible to apply. The research in our area draws from Psychology, Organizational Behaviour, Analytics, Business, Computing, Engineering, Information Science, and Systems and Technology.

Upcoming Conferences of Interest

NeuGeneration Conference on Neuroscience January 18th - 19th, 2020

The 5th annual NeuGeneration Conference will be hosted at the Biosciences Complex Building on January 18th-19th 2020. Here are a few highlights for the conference this year:

Speaker Sneak Peek:

* Dr. Brian Chen, a professor at McGill University, will be presenting his research on the topic of neural circuit formation.
* Dr. Luis Flores, a professor from Queen’s University, will be touching on the topic of depression and social interactions.
* Dr. Anita Tusche, a professor from Queen’s University, will be presenting her research on neuroeconomics.
* Dr. Gordon Boyd, a professor from Queen’s University, will be speaking about his research on neurological recovery after critical illness, particularly cardiac arrest.

Case Competition and Workshop: Delegates will also have the opportunity to attend different workshops and compete in groups to work on a case study about the nature of dreams.

Interactive Q&A: Delegates will have a chance to chat with speakers on topics including neurophilosophy and the mind body problem.

Social Sneak Peak: This year’s conference social will be held at the Grizzly Grill on Saturday night. There will be many opportunities to network with professors and graduate students attending the conference.

Food: The conference will be catered by Queen’s Events Services. Delegates will be provided with breakfast and lunch on both Saturday and Sunday as well as additional refreshments throughout the day.

Queen’s Global Energy Conference January 18th - 19th, 2020

Queen’s EngSoc is thrilled to announce our conference theme this year as “A Call to Action.” This theme will focus on how organizations and delegates entering the energy industry intend to mitigate the impacts of climate change as well as create a more sustainable future. We are asking delegates, speakers, and organizations alike to think about how they are being “called to action” to modify current designs through innovation and up-and-coming technology.

Our delegate registration is now open, and we encourage you to sign up following this link: https://forms.gle/wceHWNUPvTxsuUbD6

This year we are working hard to make the conference as accessible to Queen’s students as possible by lowering the delegate fee to $100, bringing the conference to Queen’s campus locations, and setting the conference as a two-day event running on Saturday and Sunday to prevent delegates from having to miss classes on Friday.

We also accept external delegates and students who are on internship and we encourage you to forward the registration to any of your friends at other universities!

Crossroads Interdisciplinary Health Research Conference – Halifax – March 13 & 14, 2020

The 18th Annual Crossroads Interdisciplinary Health Research Conference is happening March 13th and 14th, 2020 at the Halifax Central Library and Collaborative Health Education Building (CHEB) in Halifax, NS. Crossroads is student-led health research conference hosted by the School of Health and Human Performance Graduate Student Society. Over the course of the conference, you will take in a great panel presentation covering ‘Health Research with Indigenous Peoples’ in addition to a keynote lecture by Dr. Ingrid Waldron titled “Troubled Waters: The Health & Mental Health Impacts of Environmental Racism in Nova Scotia”. You will also be able to participate in interactive workshops on Sex and Gender Based Analysis and Research to Policy and a group Naloxone training. On the second day of the conference you will have the opportunity to present your research either orally or through a poster. Registration includes your meals during the conference, and access to all conference programming, including a lunch time social event where facilitators will lead open and welcoming discussions on various health related topics. A limited number of travel grants will be available for students traveling from outside of the Halifax area: https://dalcrossroads.com/travel/.

We will be accepting abstracts for poster and oral presentations from students for any health-related project at any stage (i.e. proposal, preliminary analysis, completed) and from any department (i.e. health professions, business, engineering, social sciences). Abstract submission is NOW OPEN and closes Friday, January 10th, 2020. For more information, or to submit, an abstract, please visit our website: https://dalcrossroads.com/call-for-abstracts/

Other Health Services/Resources at Queen’s:
Physical Therapy Clinic
Sexual Health Resource Centre (SHRC)
DrugSmart: A pharmacy located in the Queen’s Centre.
Environmental Health and Safety
Food Centre, AMS: A non-profit, confidential, and non-judgmental food service for members of the Queen’s community.

Peer Support Centre:
The Peer Support Centre is a service on campus that provides one-on-one peer support to all undergraduate students. It thrives on being confidential and non-judgemental. Every student is always welcome to drop-in for a chat or resource referral. Students are free to talk about anything they choose. No problem is too big or too small! We are open 10am - 10pm, 7 days a week starting in September.

Disability Services
Student Wellness Services assists students in the following ways:
- Recommends exam accommodations
- Facilitates access to material in alternate formats
- Provides assistive technologies
- Coordinates learning strategies and library research workshops
- Coordinates volunteer note-taking and peer mentor programs

NOTE: Students with disabilities who wish to make use of the services available must register at Disability Services every academic year and must forward supporting documentation to the Student Wellness Services Office.

Other disability services offered at Queen’s include...
- Learning Strategies Development: This program enhances students’ ability to learn effectively and helps students develop greater confidence in their abilities.
- Learning Disabilities Specialists: Offered through the Regional Assessment and Resource Centre, these specialists provide assessment and services for students with possible learning disabilities and other neuropsychological conditions.
- InvisAbilities: A student organization promoting awareness, education, and support of young adults living with hidden chronic illness. Started at Queen’s in 2009, the group has spread to include chapters at McGill University, University of Ottawa, Brock University, and University of Calgary.

Academic Support
The transition to university life is a big one – and part of it is adjusting to the challenges and workload that are part of being a Queen’s student. At Queen’s you are never alone. We have many offices dedicated to helping you learn, think, and do.

The Learning Commons
The Queen’s Learning Commons (QLC) is both a hub of services supporting formal academic programs and a meeting place within Stauffer Library. It encompasses physical and online environments, accommodating different approaches to learning.

The QLC provides resources, workshops and seminars, and one-on-one professional consultations for students who want to enhance or develop their skills.

The QLC is composed of:

- The Adaptive Technology Centre / Library Services for Students with Disabilities
- IT Services: Services include many learning resources and workshop opportunities
- Queen’s Library: Services include Subject Liaison Librarians who can help you locate resources for your field of study
- Student Academic Success Services who can help you improve your writing and academic skills and confidence through online resources, workshops and individual appointments.

Career Services
As the central provider of career education and employment support services at Queen’s University for undergraduate, graduate students and recent alumni from all disciplines. They offer a comprehensive range of accessible services to support and empower students in making informed decisions about their career, further education and employment goals.
