APPLICATIONS DUE JANUARY 31st, 2020

POTENTIAL APPLICANTS CAN EXPRESS INTEREST TO BRAINDAY.QUEENSU@GMAIL.COM

STUDENTS FROM ALL FACULTIES ARE WELCOME!
If you thought you missed out on the opportunity to get involved in the fall, the Queen’s Visual Cognition Lab (QVCL) is recruiting Volunteer Research Assistants for the winter semester! We’re searching for individuals who are enthusiastic about Cognitive Psychology and want to learn more about Vision Research.

This is a perfect position for a 2nd or 3rd year student interested in learning more about this field or looking to gain some research experience. We have some great people working in our lab this year, and hopefully you’re interested in contributing to our field of work. The time commitment is about 10hrs/week and hours are flexible.

If you are interested, please email our lab (qvcl.coord@gmail.com) by Thursday, January 16th at 11:59 pm with your resume, an unofficial copy of your transcript, a list of any computer skills, and the reason why you would make an excellent volunteer. Place ‘Lab Assistant Position’ in the subject line.
If you would like more information about our research, feel free to browse our website at https://qvcl.ca/ or drop by our lab located at Humphrey Hall, room 311.

MAYOR’S INNOVATION CHALLENGE

THIS IS NOT YOUR REGULAR PITCH COMPETITION. WE WANT TO GIVE YOU A JOB!

The Mayor’s Innovation Challenge is a case competition whereby teams of up to three students from any of Kingston’s post-secondary institutions can pitch an innovative solution to an identified challenge being faced by the city. This year, there will be two challenge streams, with four category options in total. Each challenge stream will have its own coveted prize, which will include an operating budget, as well as a four-month, paid internship with either the City of Kingston or a needs based internship with the Dunin-Desphande Queen’s Innovation Centre Summer Internship program for winning teams to implement their idea. The four challenge options are as follows:

The Dunin-Desphande Smart Kingston Stream

- 4-month internship with the Dunin-Desphande Queen’s Innovation Centre, $4,000 in seed capital, and access to the 2019 QICSI program to implement the winning idea.

1. Smart Kingston Challenge: People Focused, Culture Focused, Privacy and Security Focused and climate focused

Public Sector Innovation Challenge

- 4-month paid internship with the City of Kingston, along with a $10,000 operating budget to implement the winning idea.

1. Demonstrating Leadership on Climate Action
2. Enhancing Food Security and Sustainability
3. Removing Barriers and Improving Accessibility

Leadership Opportunity: Chapter President for a Non-Profit Organization

The Brain Exercise Initiative is a student run 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that focuses on improving the memory and cognitive function of those with Alzheimer's using simple math, writing and reading aloud exercises. It is found that simple math exercises and reading aloud for just 30 minutes a day can have a positive impact on memory for those with Alzheimer's. This is currently being done extensively in Japan. It was discovered by a Japanese neuroscientist, Ryuta Kawashima, and consists of math exercises and reading aloud of short stories. Done for just 30 minutes a day, 5 times a week, improvements in Alzheimer’s patients have been observed. This practice is currently being done in 1,400 care homes with 15,000 Alzheimer’s patients all over Japan and has had great success. Many individuals showed improvements in communication and behavior. Some went from being bedridden to sitting in a chair or walking. Additionally, they began to feel happier.

We currently have chapters at 25 universities across the US, Puerto Rico, and Canada including UCLA, Harvard, Columbia, Cornell, Berkeley, Brown, and UCSD. Volunteers in our organization go to retirement homes for about 30-45 minutes a day and do simple math (addition, subtraction, etc.), reading aloud and writing exercises with the elders. We are currently looking for a committed and enthusiastic student leader to establish a chapter at your university. You can find out more information about our organization here: www.brainexerciseinitiative.com. As president of your chapter, you will be responsible for reaching out to retirement homes, finding and training volunteers, and implementing the program successfully. If you wish to take on this leadership role, please email our president, Esin Gumustekin, at egumustekin@g.ucla.edu.

Upcoming Conferences of Interest

NeuGeneration Conference on Neuroscience January 18th - 19th, 2020

The 5th annual NeuGeneration Conference will be hosted at the Biosciences Complex Building on January 18th-19th 2020. Here are a few highlight for the conference this year:

Speaker Sneak Peek:
* Dr. Brian Chen, a professor at McGill University, will be presenting his research on the topic of neural circuit formation.
* Dr. Luis Flores, a professor from Queen’s University, will be touching on the topic of depression and social interactions.
* Dr. Anita Tusche, a professor from Queen’s University, will be presenting her research on neuroeconomics.
* Dr. Gordon Boyd, a professor from Queen's University, will be speaking about his research on neurological recovery after critical illness, particularly cardiac arrest.

Case Competition and Workshop: Delegates will also have the opportunity to attend different workshops and compete in groups to work on a case study about the nature of dreams.
Interactive Q&A: Delegates will have a chance to chat with speakers on topics including neurophilosophy and the mind body problem.
Social Sneak Peak: This year’s conference social will be held at the Grizzly Grill on Saturday night. There will be many opportunities to network with professors and graduate students attending the conference.
Food: The conference will be catered by Queen’s Events Services. Delegates will be provided with breakfast and lunch on both Saturday and Sunday as well as additional refreshments throughout the day.

Queen’s Global Energy Conference January 18th - 19th, 2020

Queen’s EngSoc is thrilled to announce our conference theme this year as “A Call to Action.” This theme will focus on how organizations and delegates entering the energy industry intend to mitigate the impacts of climate change as well as create a more sustainable future. We are asking delegates, speakers, and organizations alike to think about how they are being "called to action” to modify current designs through innovation and up-and-coming technology.

Our delegate registration is now open, and we encourage you to sign up following this link: https://forms.gle/wceHWNUpvTsuxUbd6

This year we are working hard to make the conference as accessible to Queen’s students as possible by lowering the delegate fee to $100, bringing the conference to Queen’s campus locations, and setting the conference as a two-day event running on Saturday and Sunday to prevent delegates from having to miss classes on Friday.

We also accept external delegates and students who are on internship and we encourage you to forward the registration to any of your friends at other universities!

The 9th Annual Interdisciplinary Conference in Psychology

This national, peer-reviewed conference will take place on May 7th and 8th, 2020. We are accepting abstract submissions from students and professors studying topics related to psychology from January 6th - February 15th, 2020.

About ICP:

The Interdisciplinary Conference in Psychology (ICP) is an international peer-reviewed academic conference organized each year by graduate and undergraduate students from the School of Psychology at the University of Ottawa. ICP will be celebrating its ninth anniversary on May 7th and 8th, 2020 in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

ICP aims to foster reflections and discussions on the different innovative approaches towards interdisciplinary research. The conference is an event for all students, professors, and researchers. It offers a unique opportunity to showcase and discuss innovative research on all topics related to psychology. It provides a forum for interdisciplinary learning and collaboration between students and experts.

How to Apply or Nominate an Individual

The deadline for nominations in is February 1st, annually. Nominations guidelines are available through the OADD website at www.oadd.org
2nd Call for Abstracts for the 2020 O.A.D.D.

Our Annual RSIG conference will be held Thursday April 9th, 2020, Best Western Plus, Lamplighter Inn, 591 Wellington Road South, London, Ontario. Have you submitted your poster or oral presentation abstract yet? The submission deadline is January 23, 2020.

RSIG was formed to provide an opportunity for students, researchers, professionals, and other interested individuals, working in the field of developmental disabilities to exchange research, ideas, resources, and share any contemporary challenges emerging in the field.

We welcome research from all disciplines and areas of research related to developmental disabilities. We are accepting submissions for poster presentations as well as short (15-minute) oral presentations and data blitz presentations. Attached you will find the submission guidelines. Please go to http://oadd.org/affiliate-organizations/rsig-call-for-abstracts/ to submit your abstracts. The conference theme this year is “From Deinstitutionalization to Citizenship: Where are we now?” Our conference this year will help us to pause and reflect on how far we have come in terms of promoting social inclusion and addressing barriers to social citizenship for people with developmental disabilities. Talks around the theme are encouraged, but not necessary.

OADD and RSIG are pleased to offer several student awards. Please see http://oadd.org/scholarships-awards/ for more information about student travel awards, poster awards as well as awards for excellence in research.

For more details about RSIG and OADD, please visit our website at www.oadd.org.

If you have any questions about RSIG or the conference, please do not hesitate to email us at oadd.rsig@gmail.com. We look forward to seeing you in April!

Queen's Science Undergraduate Research Journal

The Queen's Science Undergraduate Research Journal (QSURJ) is an online and print peer- and faculty-reviewed undergraduate research journal which publishes research from a wide variety of disciplines. We are a student-run initiative with the purpose of providing undergraduate students opportunities to publish research in a professional academic setting.

We are currently accepting submissions for the 2020 edition of the Journal until Monday, March 2nd, 2019. We accept a diverse range of submissions, including original research manuscripts from undergraduate thesis or summer internship work, review articles, and short essays on current topics of interest involving science. If you have any former or current students that would be interested in publishing, please inform them of this opportunity as well! For further details regarding submission, please refer to the submission guidelines package attached. If you have any questions or concerns, please visit our website at https://ojs.library.queensu.ca/index.php/qsurj/about or email us directly at qsurj@asus.queensu.ca.

Other Health Services/Resources at Queen’s:

Physical Therapy Clinic
Sexual Health Resource Centre (SHRC)
DrugSmart: A pharmacy located in the Queen’s Centre.
Environmental Health and Safety
Food Centre, AMS: A non-profit, confidential, and non-judgmental food service for members of the Queen’s community.

Peer Support Centre:
The Peer Support Centre is a service on campus that provides one-on-one peer support to all undergraduate students. It thrives on being confidential and non-judgemental. Every student is always welcome to drop-in for a chat or resource referral. Students are free to talk about anything they choose. No problem is too big or too small! We are open 10am - 10pm, 7 days a week starting in September.

Disability Services
Student Wellness Services assists students in the following ways:

- Recommends exam accommodations
- Facilitates access to material in alternate formats
- Provides assistive technologies
- Coordinates learning strategies and library research workshops
- Coordinates volunteer note-taking and peer mentor programs

NOTE: Students with disabilities who wish to make use of the services available must register at Disability Services every academic year and must forward supporting documentation to the Student Wellness Services Office.

Other disability services offered at Queen’s include...

- Learning Strategies Development: This program enhances students’ ability to learn effectively and helps students develop greater confidence in their abilities.
- Learning Disabilities Specialists: Offered through the Regional Assessment and Resource Centre, these specialists provide assessment and services for students with possible learning disabilities and other neuropsychological conditions.
- InvisAbilities: A student organization promoting awareness, education, and support of young adults living with hidden chronic illness. Started at Queen’s in 2009, the group has spread to include chapters at McGill University, University of Ottawa, Brock University, and University of Calgary.

Academic Support
The transition to university life is a big one – and part of it is adjusting to the challenges and workload that are part of being a Queen’s student. At Queen’s you are never alone. We have many offices dedicated to helping you learn, think, and do.

The Learning Commons
The Queen’s Learning Commons (QLC) is both a hub of services supporting formal academic programs and a meeting place within Stauffer Library. It encompasses physical and online environments, accommodating different approaches to learning.
The QLC provides resources, workshops and seminars, and one-on-one professional consultations for students who want to enhance or develop their skills.

The QLC is composed of:

- The Adaptive Technology Centre / Library Services for Students with Disabilities
- IT Services: Services include many learning resources and workshop opportunities
- Queen's Library: Services include Subject Liaison Librarians who can help you locate resources for your field of study
- Student Academic Success Services who can help you improve your writing and academic skills and confidence through online resources, workshops and individual appointments.
